Thank From Schools and a Letter From Tax Assessor-Elect

Mr. Alex. H. Washburn,
Editor
Hope Star
Hope, Arkansas 71801
Dear Mr. Washburn:
I appreciate the kind words in
your editorial Thursday, November 30.

Your analysis of the problems
the school district faced in the Thirties and Forties was correct.

We operated on deficit financing until 1952. The Legislature passed a law
requiring school districts to get on a cash basis at that time. So, we floated a bond issue in 1952
for $24,195. We have continued
on a cash basis since that time,
although, the going has been tough.

I have agreed with your method of financing schools at the local level but when our assessment program did not come up to expectation, we had no other alternative but to turn to millage.

The increased millage voted
last year will put this district on a sound financial base for 1973-74 school year. Although, we will be only an average financed school, which is still
the best in the history of our school district.

I appreciate all you have done
in the past for our schools.
Thanks. Yours truly,

JAMES H. JONES
Superintendent of Schools

Dec. 1, 1972
Hope, Ark.

In view of Supt. Jones
reference to The Star's long and unsuccessful fight for reform of Arkansas' "voluntary" tax
assessing system the following letter from Tax Assessor-Elect Lile Easterling will be of interest. Mr. Easterling, it will be recalled, asked for an increase in the appropriation for his office at the recent session of the Hempstead County Quorum Court but the court turned him
down although at the same time
increasing total appropriations
for 1973 over 1972 by $14,413 or 13 per cent.

Here is Mr. Easterling's
letter:

Editor The Star: Since my request for an appropriation of $8,400 has become a center of controversy (Ed Note: The Star
opened fire on the Quorum
Court Nov. 24 and Lester Wade
of Blevins, justice member of the court from Wallaceburg township, defended the court's rejection in a letter published in this column Nov. 30) I feel that I should give my views so the people of Hempstead county
will have a first-hand report as to why I asked for the money.

First, please permit me to say that I may not have gone into as much detail as I should have in making my request to the Quorum Court.

The Assessor's office has a set of photo maps that are dated 1956. So you see that my request for a new set of maps is not something new for the county. I am of the opinion that when we note the changes that have come about in Hempstead
county since 1956 you will have to agree that a new set of maps
is needed. The maps in question
(I wanted) were made in 1971.
They would have been fairly current.

Please let me state that it was the Equalization Board that called to my attention the fact that a new set of maps was needed.

These photo maps would be of invaluable aid in giving complete visual coverage of all details in the county.

The money (requested but rejected) for clerk hire would have been to pay the salary of a person to transfer needed information from other maps in the county that would be made available to the Assessor's office.

I know that the law places the responsibility for appraisal and

Topless, bottomless are girding for battle

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)
— California's topless-bottomless entertainment industry
is girding for a battle over an antidress code ruling by the U.S.
Supreme Court.

The court's decision gives
state liquor authorities the power to begin enforcing regulations against topless waitresses and topless-bottomless entertainers.

Peter Sexton, deputy director of the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, said
topless-only dancers still
are allowed if the entertainer
stays at least six feet away
from the nearest customer on a stage at least 18 inches high.
Topless waitresses, said Sexton,
are out.

"Nude entertainment per se
is on its way out," Sexton
added.

The 6-3 Supreme Court ruling
said that states can shut down
bars that feature nude dancers
and other "baccchanalian revel-ries on grounds that First Amendment freedom does not go beyond books and movies to
'gross sexuality' in public."

Edward J. Kirby, director of the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, said the ruling will affect all other states, too. It was issued Tuesday in a California case.

Sexton says his department is planning an immediate statewide drive to lift liquor licenses
of nude bars or bars that permit sex acts ranging from intercourse to flagellation or that display genitals — whether in the flesh or on film.

"We intend to press it to the letter of the law," Sexton said.
"There will be no holding back."

assessment of both real and personal property on the Assessor and I would like to state that I had no intention of staying in the office and sending out an outside man to do my job for me.

I stated to the court in making
my request that there are 19,620
parcels of real property in Hempstead county and I felt that I needed some assistance
in the work.

I would like to state here and now that the people of Hemp-stead county can expect to see me all over the county as I
attempt to perform my duties
as your Assessor.

I would like to set the record
straight concerning a rumor
that was circulated over the county before the election to the effect that I stated if elected I would go into the homes of the people to assess their personal property, and I have been told
the rumor is still being talked.
I will state emphatically that I
made no such statement before or since the election. The rumor is completely false.

I have a high regard for the members of the Quorum Court
and do not have any quarrel
with the Court. I intend to work in harmony with the Quorum
Court and the Equalization Board.

As for the idea of employing
an outside man being hatched
up in a smoke-filled room,
attended by a group of special interested people close to a schoolhouse, I have not attended such a meeting at any time.

I would like to state again
that I appreciate the confidence that the people placed in me in electing me to the office of Assessor and I shall endeavor to conduct the office in such a way as to bring dignity to the Assessor office and honor to our citizens and to Hempstead
county.

17: Last of the Apollo flights

Blastoff from Cape Kennedy tonight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)
— Seventeen, the last of America's great Apollo flights to the moon, lifts into the dark on a column of fire tonight—a dangerous windup to an epoch of lunar
exploration.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cer-
nan, Ronald E. Evans and Harrison H. Schmitt were pictured as "all charged and ready" for the 13-day journey that may be man's final visit in this century
to his celestial neighbor.

The blastoff is scheduled for 9:53 p.m. EST. Despite the few ever-present hitches, launch officials called the countdown of Apollo 17 one of the most trouble-free in the 11-flight
Apollo series.

The sky-craper-tall Saturn 5
rocket and its cargo of men,
scientific equipment and sacrificial mice will rise with a belliful roar on a 2,300-foot tail
of flame that may be visible 500 miles away.

For the half million or more
people expected in the area,
weather conditions were not perfect. The forecast called for considerable cloudiness at 12-000 feet — the altitude the rocket reaches in less than a minute.

Weather posed less problems
for space officials. Launch director Walter Kopyan said
there would be a threat to on-
time liftoff only if upper-level
clouds contain ice particles that might create lightning strikes
as the rocket slices through. He discounted the possibility.

The wives and children of Cernan and Evans said goodby
to the astronauts across a glass barrier Tuesday night. Schmitt,
a geologist and the first scientist to go to the moon, is a bachelor.

Most of the Apollo astronauts,
including many of the 10 men who have walked the moon, are
at the cape to watch the historic last.

"There's a lot of good natured kidding between the veterans and the youngsters," said
Adm. Alan Shepard, chief of the astronaut office and the first man in space.

"They're anxious to go," he said of Cernan, a two-flight
veteran, and space rookies
Evans and Schmitt. "They all
seem to be feeling confident.
They are all charged and ready for their part of the countdown."

The Apollo 17 astronauts have been sleeping later each day to adjust their biological clocks for an early afternoon wakeup. Their schedule calls for a light snack on arising, a medical examination in early evening and dinner 3½ hours before launch.

Although this is the last moon
flight, it is not the end of space exploration. Three crews of three men each plan to man an earth-orbiting laboratory for periods of one and two months
next year, and the space shuttle is in prospect for the late 1970s.

Cernan and Schmitt will land
on the moon at 2:54 p.m. next Monday near the Taurus mountains and the Littrow crater in the northeast section of the moon. That area is scientifically interesting because it is expected to have the newest,
as well as some of the oldest,
rocks in the moon's 4.6 billion
years of existence.

During their record 75 hours
on the lunar surface, the astronauts will explore, collect samples and place experiments —
leaving the lunar lander they call Challenger three times for seven-hour periods.

They plan to drive their moon
car a total of 23 miles in quest
of material that Schmitt said
would "fill in missing chapters
in the evolution of the moon —
the first and the last."

He explained rocks returned
by five previous moon-landing
crews ranged in age from about 3 billion to 4.3 billion
years old.

Evans, in the command ship
named America, will conduct experiments from 60 miles over the surface in his 75 revolutions
of the moon. By splashdown in the Pacific on Dec. 19, the command pilot will have flown 1.4 million miles.

Keeping Evans company will be five pocket mice that will ride in separate containers in a sealed box. They will be killed on returning to earth in an experiment to determine how cosmic rays might affect man's brain tissue on long space
flights of the future.

Silver-haired at 38, Cernan
previously has flown in space
for three days on Gemini 9 and flew close to the moon in a dress rehearsal for the first landing aboard Apollo 16. He and his wife, Barbara, have a 9-year-old daughter, Tracey.

Schmitt, 37, a civilian, holds a doctorate in geology and was

geology and is the first scientist
in space.

Evans, a Navy commander,
is 39, married and the father of a son and daughter. He was flying combat missions in Vietnam when he was chosen an astronaut. He holds eight Air Medals.

Brandon has new plan for funds for highways

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)
— State Rep. B. D. Brandon of Little Rock suggested here
Tuesday that federal revenue-
sharing funds add not a bond issue be used to accelerate the state's highway development.

He told the Jonesboro Rotary Club that the federal money to be made available to the state would total about $18.3 million per year. Revenue-sharing money also will be made available to cities and counties, but some may not qualify because of their tax structure.

Brandon said about $3.5 million per year in additional revenue sharing could be available
to the state because local tax
structures do not qualify a city
or county for the aid.

He said he would add to the $21.8 million an increase of one cent per gallon in the state tax
on motor fuels, which would provide an additional $11 million yearly. Brandon said he would want all of the revenue

from the increase to be allotted
to the highway program.

"This would enable the state
to have approximately $33 million per year for additional highway construction," Brandon said. "The amounts available would increase in future
years as the proceeds from the fuel tax increased."

"Thus, the state could have a $330 million accelerated highway construction program over the next 10 years without going into debt," Brandon said.

He said revenue sharing
could undergo significant philosophical changes in the next few years. "I think it would be unwise for the state, at the present time, to dedicate any of the revenue-sharing monies to operating budgets," Brandon said. "Instead, I believe these funds could be used for needed
capital improvements."

'Hand's off' policy taken by McGovern

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern says he is following "a hands-off policy" in the many-sided battle for control of the Democratic party.

The South Dakota senator, who suffered a landslide defeat to President Nixon in last month's presidential election, said in a telephone interview Tuesday, "I don't think there's much chance of anyone with drawing. Whoever the Democratic National Committee decides on its chairman will have my full support."

McGovern, who picked present Chairman Jean Westwood for the post after he won the Democratic presidential nomination last July, said, "I don't want people saying I'm vetoing anything."

"I want the national committee to meet and review the various candidates and decide" without any attempted influence from McGovern, he said.

Jones still on stand in tax-evasion trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Guy H. Jones of Conway was to continue testifying in U. S. District Court here today in his own defense.

The senator spent most of the day Tuesday on the stand and was still testifying when court was adjourned at 6 p.m. until this morning.

Jones is being tried on charges of evading $5,200 in federal income taxes in 1965 and 1966 and of filing false income tax returns for those years.

In his testimony Tuesday, Jones said he "thoroughly believed" that information contained in his tax returns for the two years was "absolutely correct." He said he had never de-

Freak accident involved truck, car, trailer

The Hope Police Department reported that a freak accident involving a station wagon, a pickup truck and a trailer occurred on South Hervey about 4:30 Tuesday.

Bobby Allen of Hope was driving a pickup truck with the trailer attached, north on Hervey when the trailer broke loose from its hitch. The trailer then careened into a 1964 station wagon driven by Mrs. Donald Parker of Hope. No injuries were reported, according to investigating officer John Shirley, but the station wagon suffered heavy damage.

Highway bond issue 'dead'? Bumpers declines to comment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers declined to say Tuesday whether he thought a highway bond program was a dead issue in the state, but he said he did not detect "any significant support" for a highway construction bond issue.

He said this particularly applied to the state Highway Commission's proposed $416 million issue.

Bumpers also said there was "some merit" to Rep. B. D. Brandon's proposal to combine federal revenue sharing funds with a one cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax for a construction program.

Bumpers said his administration had been "studying" something similar to the Brandon proposal.

The governor said in an interview that a bond issue should be a secondary method of financing highway construction if a suitable alternative is available.

Observing that the legislature had rejected his proposal to re-vamp the state toll road legislation so that they could be built, Bumpers said the state was left with "either a bond issue, or a gas tax increase or a gas tax increase with certain revenue-sharing funds."

Commenting on Brandon's proposal, the governor said he did not think the state could commit to highways the entire $18.3 million it is to receive annually in federal revenue-sharing funds. He said it was at least the intent of the Nixon administration that some of the money be spent for operating expenses, such as salaries for policemen and firemen, and not all used for construction purposes.

Brandon had proposed using all the state allocation for roads in addition to the portion

Laird, other NATO ministers meeting

By ANTHONY COLLINGS
Associated Press Writer
BRUSSELS (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and 13 other NATO defense ministers met today with the growing public demand for troop cuts in Western Europe their chief concern.

Pressure for smaller forces is being generated by such moves toward East-West rapprochement as the coming conferences on European security and mutual reduction of forces, the strategic arms limitation talks between the United States and the Soviet Union, West Germany's treaties with Poland and the Soviet Union recognizing their World War II conquest of German territory and the recent treaty between East and West Germany recognizing the division of Germany.

Three of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations — West Germany, Belgium and Denmark — are considering reductions in their armed forces. There also is strong support in the U.S. Senate for withdrawal of a sizable part of the 300,000 U.S. troops in Western Europe. But the military chiefs of the Atlantic Alliance nations and most of the defense ministers contend that any reductions would weaken the NATO nations in bargaining with the Soviet bloc.

Caldwell is speaker

Jack Caldwell of Hope Auto Company was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting and was introduced by George Wright Jr., who arranged the program.

Caldwell stated that there are 100 million automobiles on the road today, and the number is growing each year. "Automobiles have become an integral part of our lives," he said, "New models are about five years in hitting the local market, from the early planning stages to the completed product. They represent a modern industrial miracle."

The speaker showed a color film entitled "A Car Is Born".

Visitors at Tuesday's meeting were Al Park, Rev. Vernon Wickliffe, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, and Key Clubbers Mike Huckabee and Teddy Price.

THINK SAFETY FOR A HAPPY HOLIDAY

The Christmas-New Year holiday season is the brightest and happiest of the year but it frequently is one of the most dangerous as well.

The Consumers Insurance Information Bureau says that for a safer holiday season, celebrants should think of the twin danger areas, Home and Highway.

Home decorations, particularly where real evergreen is used, are a potential source for fire. Keep all decorations away from heat and flame. Use only lighting approved by the Underwriters Laboratory, shown by the UL label. Discard any lights with worn wires and loose or broken sockets. Do not use flammable ornaments or decorations on trees or mantel pieces.

A live tree should be kept out-of-doors until needed. Then, it should be placed in a stand containing water. A fresh diagonal cut on the trunk about one inch above the original cut will help the tree absorb water and stay fresh longer. The tree should be removed soon after Christmas and certainly as soon as it shows signs of drying.

The country's highways are also a particular danger over the holiday season. Weather and extra partying contribute to high traffic tolls during this period. In 1971, more than 1,400 people lost their lives as a result of motor vehicle accidents during the Christmas and New Year holiday weekends.

The Bureau says that alcohol is involved in at least 50 percent of all fatal accidents. It suggests that party goers eat a meal beforehand and, as a rule of thumb set a limit of two drinks an hour.

CIB, sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Agents, recommends extra precaution at home and on the highways throughout the year but especially during the holiday season.

Christmas comes from many lands

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Believe it or not Christmas was once looked on as "a corruption" in New England. It was not until the middle of the 19th century that Christmas was completely celebrated outside the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Unitarian churches in New England.

"When the Christmas season at last became a New England holiday, it had absorbed many of the most endearing and enduring traditions of many countries — like America herself. It included the German Christmas tree, the Dutch Saint Nicholas, the evergreen and mistletoe decorations of the Scandinavians, the beloved carols of all these people and holiday foods that had a flavor of the best of many mother countries along with dishes unique to New England woods and waters."

Unlike the traditional menu for the historically honored Thanksgiving feast, Christmas dinner among the Yankees has several surprises. Fresh live lobster is one. Fresh clams on the half shell is another.

The English customs are reserved and enjoyed throughout New England. According to Buddy Adler, innkeeper of the Public House, Sturbridge, Mass., the traditions of the old English Yule are carried on in this 1771 tavern.

"The Public House today celebrates with strolling minstrels, scarlet-clad women, wenches, a jester and a sprite who rides in on the yule log and hangs the mistletoe. As the minstrel strums his dulcimer and the rafters ring with the merry songs of Christmas, guests gather by an open fire in the taproom where Lafayette and his son stopped to rest in 1824. Then they follow the Boar's Head procession upstairs for the feast. The menu would cheer the heart of any Englishman — roast beef, roast sucking pig, glazed turkeys and hams, stuffed goose, molded salads, plum pudding, and Christmas pies."

These and many more fascinating stories unique to New England are contained in the charming new book, "Christmas in New England" by Taylor Lewis Jr. and Joanne Young.

These things are a far cry from the first public celebration of Christmas in Cambridge, Mass., around the middle of the 19th century, says Buddy Adler of the Public House.

"As I recall the story, a Harvard professor of German descent placed a small Christmas tree in the center of Harvard Square. He wanted his three-year-old son to be delighted. He was, and so will my Finnish wife and my two very small Boston-born infants this year when we all celebrate Christmas in New England."

Helen Help Us!

by Helen Bottel

Can the Cocktail Party?

DEAR HELEN:
My spouse absolutely hates and detests cocktail parties. So do I, but sometimes we're invited by friends who don't understand this. I would go, because I don't want to hurt their feelings. But he says, "If they want to see us, they can invite us to dinner, not to some pay-back-obligation mob scene."

It's very hard to explain this to friends, so we keep saying we're busy and don't go anywhere. And the word gets around that we're unusual. I'm afraid we'll end up with no friends and I may have to fling myself over the bridge.

MEREDITH
Cocktail parties are like the weather: Everybody complains but nobody does anything about them.

Maybe these suggestions will help:

1. Arrive late and leave early. In all that din, who'll miss you?
2. Arrive early, before the mob scene, meet congenial friends with the same idea in mind, and go on to a quiet, conversational dinner.
3. Sit on the sidelines and observe. (Remember how, years ago, our Saturday night fun was people-watching from a parked car on Main Street?) Or mingle, with a note pad, writing down those little gems of trivia you can laugh about later. (Perhaps you'll be taken for a society reporter or author and treated with special deference.)
4. Get roaring drunk and hang by your knees from the chandeliers. Your name will soon be expunged from cocktail party lists.
5. Inasmuch as you can neither hear nor be heard, practice lip-synce. It saves the vocal cords.

6. Sit out on the terrace looking remote, glamorous, profound, amused, mysterious whatever if you're lucky, a kindred soul will sit down beside you.

DEAR HELEN:
I have lost the most precious thing in life: I thought I had fallen hopelessly in love with another woman. She made me feel like a king, never doubted me, hung on my every word, introduced me to her young, groovy friends.

By contrast my wife's honesty became "nagging," and the kids "held me down." So I told myself I deserved more appreciation—and moved in with my girlfriend.

I soon discovered peace and adoration can be deadly dull. This woman clings. She threatens suicide if I leave her. I suspect she is trying to get pregnant. Worst of all, I said so many mean things to my wife that I don't think she would take me back.

Johnny Rodgers tells critics: 'I think I'm an all-right dude'

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

"I don't think I'll vote for Johnny Rodgers (for the Heisman trophy) no matter how many yards he gains for Nebraska, no matter how many touchdowns he scores. Johnny Rodgers runs wild off the field, too. He has had several scrapes with the law, including a gas station holdup, for which he was sentenced to two years' probation after a plea of guilty." —Dick Young, sports columnist for the New York Daily News.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—I called Johnny Rodgers in Lincoln, Neb., and read him the above. Following are the comments of Rodgers, a 5-9, 160-pound senior runner-receiver and two-time All-American from the University of Nebraska:

"I see articles like that and I get letters from people saying things like that. From people who don't know me. They talk about me having bad character and that the Heisman award should go to someone who is a credit to his school, to himself, and a model to youth. But the Heisman award is supposed to go to the best football player in the country, which I think I am.

"Guys write, 'Johnny Rodgers is the flashiest back, the best back I've ever seen, but I'm not going to vote for him for Heisman.' If it's a character award, they should specify that. And then go around and meet the leading candidates. Some of these guys who vote can't know no more about me than what they read or see on TV. But how can you be an All-American and not be eligible for the Heisman award?"

"There are a lot of people on my side. One of my tightest friends is Greg Pruitt of Oklahoma, who is one of my stiffest competitors for best player in the country. He said, 'Johnny, quit worrying about it, they're just trying to mess you around.'"

"But I got to be fighting this bad character thing. What is a bad character? It's someone who constantly gets in trouble, who has detrimental things in mind. That's not me. I got into bad trouble one time in my life, made one bad mistake. The gas station thing. I was 17, I'm 21 now. The couple other things were traffic violations. It's surprising that someone from my background hasn't got in more trouble. I had to bring myself up, get up off my back from the beginning. I think I've shown good character.

"I grew up in the ghetto in Omaha. I didn't see my real father until I was 17. My mother had me when she was 16. So she was just a kid, too, when I was comin' up. I have a younger sister and brother. We were poor. We moved like seven or eight times before I was 13. I remember we lived in this big house, like an apartment house, but we lived on the sixth or seventh floor walkup. In the attic. We had two rooms. I had to sleep with my sister. My brother wasn't born yet. Then we moved to another apartment. One room, for four people.

"I was hanging around with all kinds of guys, playing ball with them. Some were better athletes than me. But a lot of them ended up in jail or reformatory or quit school. I could have got in trouble like 10 times, 11 times. Instead I got into one bad scrape. That's all. It was a mistake, and I'm sorry for it.

"But sports kept me from doing more bad stuff. And like after high school I wanted to go to college. My mother didn't understand. She wanted me to get a job. She said I wouldn't make it in college because I was too poor, too small and too black.

"Maybe she was right about the last, as far as my happiness in Lincoln. I've been made to feel like a nigger—away from football. It's a tough place for a black to live. There's no social life. It's dull. The boredom makes you want to do something. But I just stay in my apartment and watch TV every night. I feel like I'm being watched. Cops come to my apartment about four times a month, checkin' me out. They never come before 1 in the morning, and more like 2 or 3 in the morning, and get me out of bed. They say they're checkin' about some disturbance.

"I was busted last summer for possession of marijuana. But I wasn't booked, wasn't charged with anything. I was cleared, because there was no marijuana. But there was national publicity.

"I had a detective check on my phone. He found it was tapped. Lot of people here not really for me. They're trying to catch me in trouble. I don't know, maybe they think I'm uppity, getting ahead too fast. I think I am being followed, too. I'm paranoid all the time here.

"I actually feel that after the football season is over, after January 1, I'm going to be a very nervous person. They won't need me any more to win football games. I want to leave here and go to school in Omaha but my probation officer won't let me. No, I won't graduate in four years. Very few athletes do. Besides, how can I keep my mind on studies with all this happening?"

"I want the Heisman more than ever because so many people don't want me to have it. I have the stats for the award. I have the achievements. People gave me another chance to play. I played well, I kept straight. I think I'm an all-right dude."

Rodgers takes Heisman in landslide

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Rodgers knew he'd come a long way. From the coldness of the Lincoln Jail, to the warmth of the Heisman Trophy.

"My road's been bumpy," said Nebraska's football hero. "I aim to make it smoother for my brothers. Nobody deserves the route I took."

Rodgers won the Heisman in a landslide. Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt was a distant second. Johnny's fellow Cornhusker, middle guard Richard Glover, was third.

Tuesday's announcement came amid controversy over the 21-year-old Rodgers' brushes with the law, including a $90 gas station holdup not far from the Nebraska campus in 1970.

"I'm a better man today," said Rodgers. "It's no secret I've been in trouble. I feel I've overcome this. The award gives me a great deal of pride."

Rodgers received 301 first place votes and 1,310 points from newsmen voting for the Heisman Trophy. Pruitt got 117

first and 966 points. Glover's totals were 99 and 652.

Rodgers is a slender 175-pounder who caught 147 career passes for 2,667 yards and 26 touchdowns. He also returned kicks for a 16-yard average and ran the ball 133 times for 838 yards.

During the "Rodgers Era" at Nebraska, the Big Eight powerhouse won national titles in 1970 and 71 and went 8-2-1 this fall. Johnny will end his collegiate career New Year's night against Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl.

"Coach Bob Devaney should get a lot of credit for this," he said when receiving the Heisman. "When I would start going astray, he'd set me down for a talk. He was a stand-in father for the real father I never had. I love him and owe him a lot."

1st victory for UAM

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Clarence Lanier fired in 36 points to lead University of Arkansas at Monticello to a 65-47 victory over previously unbeaten Mississippi College here Tuesday night.

This was the first victory of the season for UAM, which now is 1-4.

Quarterback, usually, the dominant position in Heisman balloting, didn't far so well this time. The Big Eight kids scored a 1-2-3 sweep and quarterbacks had to settle for the next four positions with Louisiana State's Bert Jones, Alabama's Terry Davis, Penn State's John Hufnagel and Iowa State's George Amundson.

Johnny Bench hospitalized

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench will enter a hospital here Saturday to undergo surgery for a lesion discovered in his right lung three months ago during routine Cincinnati Reds physicals.

"They really don't think it's anything malignant, but it might be necessary to remove it," said the catcher who was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1972. Bench said the "spot" was discovered on an X ray in September, prior to the National League playoffs in which the Reds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Reds lost the World Series to the Oakland Athletics.

Bench said he had no physical trouble during that period and expects to be well enough to play this spring.

never in danger.

Louisiana State upset 11th-ranked Memphis State 94-81 and No. 13 North Carolina swamped Dartmouth, 128-86 in other games involving teams in the Associated Press Top Twenty.

Louisville beat Dayton 75-58, Indiana humbled Kansas 72-55, DePaul took Northwestern 88-80, New Mexico downed New Mexico State 88-67 and the Air Force turned back Tulane 81-59.

Also, it was Fordham over Yale 95-81, Cornell over Penn State 74-65 Boston College over Rhode Island 85-75, Jacksonville over Florida Tech 70-50, Gonzaga over Washington State 54-52 and Baylor over Abilene Christian 72-69.

Eddie Talubinskis, a native of Australia, scored 32 points to lead LSU over Memphis State. He might have scored more, but he fouled out with five minutes left. Soph Don Washington tossed in 28 to spark North Carolina over Dartmouth as the Tar Heels set a school scoring record.

Another soph, 5-foot-9 Greg Boyd, paced DePaul over Northwestern with 32 points. New Mexico reeled off 13 straight points at the start of the second half in downing New Mexico State before 15,139 at Albuquerque.

Allen Murphy scored 18 points in leading Louisville over Dayton and Steve Downing was high for Indiana as the Hoosiers whacked the Jayhawks.

Heard leads Bulls to victory over Detroit Pistons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago Bulls Coach Dick Motta couldn't say enough about Garfield Heard and the hustling forward couldn't do enough.

"He's probably the most amazing player I've ever had," Motta said after Heard led a second-half shooting spree and finished with 24 points as the Bulls romped to a 130-108 National Basketball Association victory over the Detroit Pistons Tuesday night.

"He's so quiet he never talks to me and I don't talk to him," Motta said. "But for the first time since I've been on this club I've got a forward who can rebound."

In other NBA games, Golden State defeated Houston 108-101, New York beat Kansas City-

Omaha 125-103, Baltimore nipped Cleveland 103-100, Atlanta edged Portland 122-121, Buffalo downed Phoenix 108-97 and Los Angeles routed Milwaukee 116-94.

There were no games in the American Basketball Association.

Heard, who swiped a starting spot from Bob Love, and Chet Walker ignited a 36-point Chicago explosion in the third period that broke open a close contest and boosted the Bulls to a 90-74 lead. Heard and Walker each scored 12 points during the eruption and each finished with 24 points.

Ken Ellis is AP's Player of the Week

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Ellis wasn't even supposed to be on the field Sunday. Unfortunately for Detroit, he wasn't only on it, he was all over it.

The Green Bay cornerback intercepted a pair of passes to trigger two scoring drives and recovered a fumble to blunt a Detroit scoring threat, helping the Packers to regain their one-game lead in the National Conference's Central Division with a 33-7 victory over the Lions.

The performance, made all the more remarkable since it was carried out despite a dislocated shoulder, earned Ellis the selection today as The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

Newton picked for AP award

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer
"If you wanted to go through a season and put together a film clip on how to play inside linebacker," said Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan of Auburn, "all you would need would be film of Bill Newton against Alabama."

Newton, a 218-pound junior, bolted into the national spotlight at Birmingham, Ala., last Saturday when he blocked two punts in the final six minutes, each going for touchdowns as Auburn knocked the second-ranked Crimson Tide from the unbeaten ranks 17-16.

Jordan wouldn't have to limit his film clip to those two plays, because Newton had an incredible afternoon.

In addition to the blocked punts, Newton made 13 solo tackles, assisted on 11 tackles and made four stops behind the line of scrimmage. The effort earned him recognition by The Associated Press today as the National College Lineman of the Week.

NHL officials to meet with Soviets

CHICAGO (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League was given permission to meet next week with Soviet officials to set up a 10-game series between the Russians and as many as six NHL clubs next season.

The action was taken Tuesday when the Board of Governors of the NHL ended a two-day meeting.

Campbell will meet with Soviet officials in Montreal next Tuesday to set up the series which would include six games in North America and four in Russia.

Domres running in Unitas' footsteps

By GORDON REARD

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — It's not easy to replace a living sports legend.

Performing well on the playing field is only part of the task. Winning the hearts of the fans is the most difficult obstacle to overcome—one that may never be accomplished.

The futility of a sensitive situation confronted young Marty Domres of the Baltimore Colts last Sunday, after he started a game in which his predecessor, Johnny Unitas, made a dramatic final home appearance for the Colts.

The mental anguish hurt Domres much more than a back injury he received in the game against the Buffalo Bills. After tossing three touchdown passes and running for another score in the 35-7 victory, Domres headed for a postgame dinner at Unitas' restaurant.

"I was about to enter," Domres said, "when a woman asked me to sign autographs for two kids. After she found out who I was, she said: 'I don't think much of you.'"

"That really shook me up." Since replacing Unitas in the sixth game of the season, Domres has completed 91 of 171 passes for 1,104 yards and 10 touchdowns. He has been intercepted only twice.

The latest effort against Buffalo, which included 12 completions in 24 attempts for 138 yards and seven rushes for 40 yards, earned for Domres his selection as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 25-year-old Domres, obtained in a trade with the San Diego Chargers after the Colts had played their first preseason game, credits the attitude of Unitas with enabling him to be virtually oblivious of the pressure.

"I've had good rapport with him, and he's never made me feel uncomfortable," Domres said. "He never makes suggestions to me during a game unless I ask him specifically what he thinks. He leaves me pretty much on my own."

Cowboys not ashamed of being third best

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry realizes his defending Super Bowl champions haven't exactly ravaged the countryside, but he's quick to emphasize they don't have any reason to be ashamed of the third best record in the National Football League.

"If we end up with the record we have now (three losses), we haven't backed into anything," Landry said Tuesday.

The Cowboys will earn the National Conference "wild card" berth if they either tie or defeat Washington Saturday in a nationally televised game with the Redskins in Texas Stadium.

Washington has already clinched the Eastern Conference title with an 11-1 record. Landry said "We don't want a loss and a tie in our final two games to get into the playoffs. We want to win them both."

Dallas plays the New York Giants in a season finale Dec. 17 in Texas Stadium.

Landry said the Cowboys, who own a 9-3 record, "have been judged as not playing well at all" this year because of the excellent seasons by unbeaten Miami and the Redskins.

"The standards are different this year," Landry said. "We usually come into the playoffs with three or four losses."

The Cowboys have been in the NFL playoffs for seventh consecutive seasons. Landry admitted the Cowboys haven't played as well as they did in their Super Bowl stretch drives of 1971 and 1972.

"We've got to eliminate the errors," Landry said. "You will notice that we had very few mistakes in our stretch drives the last two years."

He said the Doornaday Defense was just beginning to recover from a series of injuries that have hampered the Cowboy pass rush.

"We haven't had as much pressure on the passer and our (quarterback) traps are down," Landry said. "But we started to play last Sunday (a 27-6 victory over St. Louis) like we did last year. You can sense when your momentum starts to roll. And we have added the ingredient of togetherness."

Little-All-American AP team is named

By HERSCHEL NIBBENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Running backs "Box Office Billy" Johnson of Widener College, Jimmy Edwards of Northeast Louisiana and Mike Deutch of North Dakota were named to The Associated Press College Division All-America 1972 football team Tuesday, along with quarterback Bob Biggs of the University of California's Davis branch.

Also on the select 22-man squad are defensive end Joe Carbone of national champion Delaware, split end Roger Carr of runner-up Louisiana Tech and linebacker Jim Youngblood of Tennessee Tech, the only repeater from the 1971 team.

The rest of the offensive line consists of tight end James Moore of McNeese State, tackles David Taylor of Catawba and Robert Woods of Tennessee State, guards Gary Kipling of South Dakota and Curtis Wester of East Texas State and center Bob Daigle of Southwest Texas State.

Carbone, at 215 pounds, is the midge of the defensive line. Joining him are 250-pound end Barney Chavious of South Carolina State, with 260-pound Gary Johnson of Grambling and 280-pound Alex Price from Alcorn A&M at the tackles.

The other linebackers besides Youngblood are Waymond Bryant of Tennessee State, Stan Cherry of Morgan State and Brian Kelley of Cal Lutheran.

In the secondary are defensive backs Mike Amos of Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo, Steve Dennis of Grambling and Bruce Polen of William Penn.

Marquette whips Tennessee

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
What's this? Ray Mears, Tennessee coach, comes right out and says Marquette would beat the mighty UCLA Bruins, who have ruled college basketball for six straight years and won 48 in a row.

No ifs, maybes or buts about it, either.

Mears made his surprising comment after the nationally fifth-ranked Marquette Warriors had whipped his 14th-ranked Vols Tuesday night in Milwaukee 56-30.

"Their pressure defense is better than anything I've seen UCLA play," declared Mears, who has coached Tennessee for 11 years. "If they played UCLA here at the Milwaukee Arena they'd beat them. They might even beat them out there." He referred to UCLA's home court in Los Angeles.

The Vols, who upset South Carolina 55-45 in their opener on Saturday, stayed in a zone for nearly the entire game while the Warriors forced them into numerous turnovers in chalking up their 74th straight victory at the Arena.

"You can't chase the ball against this team when you have big guys like we have," Mears said. "All I can say is that's the most devastating team we've played since I've zoomed to 16-4 lead and were been at Tennessee."

Led by Maurice Lucas, who scored 20 points, the Warriors

never in danger.

Louisiana State upset 11th-ranked Memphis State 94-81 and No. 13 North Carolina swamped Dartmouth, 128-86 in other games involving teams in the Associated Press Top Twenty.

Louisville beat Dayton 75-58, Indiana humbled Kansas 72-55, DePaul took Northwestern 88-80, New Mexico downed New Mexico State 88-67 and the Air Force turned back Tulane 81-59.

And every one who was in distress, and every one who was in debt, and every one who was discontented, gathered to him; and he became captain over them. And there were with him about four hundred men.—1 Samuel 22:2

PERSONAL FINANCE

Looking for a new job has to rank among life's less attractive episodes. In the best of circumstances. In the worst, the need to find new employment can be among the most destructive experiences of a man's life.

Author Lou Albee, who has written an exceptionally sound and sensible book on the techniques of job hunting, especially to what is perhaps the worst of circumstances—the middle-aged (40-plus) executive or management-level man who's out on the street. The methods and techniques he prescribes, though, should be useful to any job seeker.

Albee qualifies as an expert through having himself faced the problem of middle-aged unemployment 11 or 12 times—once in his forties, and twice in his fifties.

As a member of, and later consultant to, a "Forty Plus Club" on the West Coast, he acquired an objective as well as a personal view of the problems of getting on your feet again, after having a job shot out from under you. He writes, then, with understanding and insight, as well as cataloging the techniques that work.

Before any job hunter is ready to begin using the mechanical techniques, though, Albee emphasizes, he has to get his psyche in good repair. Anyone who's been fired suffers considerable psychic trauma — and for the middle-aged — and can be even more emotionally destructive than a death in the family, he says, citing figures on family breakups. Most men in this situation, he points out, will try to deny even to themselves the truth of their situation. At work is the protective instinct illustrated in the old gag line, "You can't fire me — I quit!"

Early chapters deal with the emotional problem and mental set of the job seeker, offering effective counseling on how to reach the healthy state of mind in which a firee can candidly say to a prospective employer, "I was fired."

Thereafter, Albee moves on to such matters as how to prepare a resume or work history, what to do about the sometimes sticky matter of references, how to sidestep the clerks in the personnel office who throw up a bureaucratic barrier between you and the man you want to talk to, how to use the phone and the mails to get job interviews, etc.

Unlike many such books, Albee's shuns the gimmicky techniques and the cheap tricks. He argues for the sound, mature approaches that will favorably impress an employer looking for a capable, mature person of good judgment.

Albee's book, "Job Hunting After Forty" (Arco Publishing Co., N.Y.; Paperback, $1.45), is worth several times the price for its chapters on what happens, and why, during an interview. Even executives who are doing the hiring, rather than seeking the job, might read these sections with profit. They're likely to see themselves, in an interview situation, in a new and useful light.

And if you're unfortunate enough to find yourself in the situation of the book's title, this $1.45 paperback is likely to prove more beneficial than a week with a psychiatrist. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Spiced Eggnog Wins Rave Comments: Here's a History of Traditional Drink

Egg nog at Christmas is as traditional in American homes as pumpkin pie at Thanksgiving. But unlike Thanksgiving fare, egg nog has English ancestors.

In case you've ever wondered where the "nog" in egg nog comes from, it's a shortened version of the word "noggin." Used in England for centuries, a noggin was a small drinking vessel in which posset, a milk and egg beverage, was served.

Along with changing ingredients and techniques of preparation, the beverage has had many names. It has been egg-pop, custard posset, syllabub, milk punch, egg-and-milk, flip, one-yard-of-flannel, and auld man's milk.

There were no hard and fast rules for mixing it over the years. Sometimes the punch was made with eggs; sometimes only egg whites were used, and sometimes no egg at all.

The Americanization of egg nog has seen the firm addition of milk and eggs to the recipe, and alcoholic beverages have been substituted for ale in the original posset.

But with typical resourcefulness, Americans have created many variations on the egg nog theme. One very good version substitutes Constant Comment Hot Tea and Toddy Mix for the spices in the old time posset.

The orange and spice flavored tea mix imparts a subtle flavor and gives a golden color to the creamy rich drink. A sprinkling of Hot Tea and Toddy Mix on top adds a dash of color to the heavy cream. Made with or without spirits, this egg nog gives a festive touch to holiday entertaining.

Serve it to guests at dinner or at a holiday party, and you'll be sure to hear nothing but compliments about your spiced egg nog. This recipe features Constant Comment Hot Tea and Toddy Mix.

Egg Nog

(Makes about 2 quarts)

1 quart milk
6 eggs, separated
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup Hot Tea and Toddy Mix
1 cup light rum, optional
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Additional Hot Tea and Toddy Mix

Scald milk in large saucepan. Beat together egg yolks, sugar and salt in large bowl; gradually stir in scalded milk. Return mixture to saucepan and cook over low heat. Stir constantly until mixture is thick enough to coat a metal spoon. Blend in 1/4 cup tea and toddy mix. Chill. Add rum. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; fold beaten egg whites and half the whipped cream into egg nog mixture. Pour into chilled punch bowl. Top with spoonfuls of remaining whipped cream. Sprinkle with hot tea and toddy mix.

Spiced Tea Nectar

(Makes about 1 quart)

2 cups water
3 tea bags
1 can (18 ounces) apricot nectar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar

Bring water to boil in saucepan. Add tea bags and steep 5 minutes. Remove tea bags. Add nectar, lemon juice and sugar to tea. Heat to serving temperature. Constant Comment tea bags are recommended, for distinctive spicy orange flavor.

Party-Wise In-or-Outdoor Refrigerator

Plan a surprise for "Santa!" In your family be sure there is one "Santa" who is going to be spoiled throughout the Christmas Season and the New Year, give him a Party Portable Refrigerator. Although destined for Dad's den, the optional roll-around cart will enable the whole family to enjoy using it in any room in the house, and even outside during the summer for patio entertaining.

The Party Portable has 1.9 cubic feet of storage capacity, four mini-cube ice trays, and comes with a handsome walnut-grained vinyl door with reversible hinges and handle. The custom cart also has a rack that holds eight short glasses. Party foods and tall bottles have plenty of room inside the unit and on the deep door shelf.

One Way to Bring Family Together

In the "Good Old Days" the holiday season was a time for all the relatives to get together for the exchange of presents, a good feast and a jolly time. Today some families still manage to visit on Christmas day, but many more find themselves separated geographically and unable to get together for the occasion.

A Christmas present that helps everyone keep in touch is a professional portrait photograph. A portrait of the entire family, or just the children, even Mom and Dad alone, would be welcomed by grandparents, aunts and uncles alike. A professional photograph can show how much everyone has grown and changed over the months and years; it is an ideal way to reintroduce the family to old friends and seldom-seen relatives.

Photography experts recommend scheduling the portrait sitting now as preholiday weeks are the photographers' busiest. If children are in school or away from home, try to arrange an appointment for a vacation day or weekend when the whole family can get together. Many photographers will take portraits in their studios or in private homes. Some will photograph in favorite outdoor settings.

You may wish to do a little "window shopping" before picking the studio photographer. Ask friends who've had portraits taken for their recommendations; visit different studios to see the sample photographs on display and talk with the photographer. Once you've selected a professional, discuss with him the type of portrait you wish and the uses you plan for the photograph.

The photographer will suggest clothing styles and colors as well as the location for the portrait sitting. His advice comes from years of experience, from knowing what colors photograph best and what styles flatter most. During the portrait sitting, he will suggest different poses. All you need do is relax and let the artist in the professional photographer take command.

You will receive several proofs from the sitting from which you can choose the portrait you like best. Studios generally keep negatives on files for several years so that customers may reorder as the need arises. But, consider the many immediate uses for a portrait taken now.

One portrait sitting can yield a harvest of Christmas gifts and greetings. Large, color prints are suitable for framing and display in any home setting. Today, many decorators select living rooms or hallways to hang the treasured family portraits.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

But its no sure cure

Hypnosis can be a tool

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Do you believe in hypnosis if you need help with a sex problem like having to adjust to life without sex? Please answer as I need help.

Dear Reader — Basically, hypnosis is a tool that the doctor can use to help manage medical problems. For difficulty in one's sex life of the nature which you describe, it is probably wise to see a psychiatrist. If he wants to use hypnosis in the process of analyzing your problem, that is fine. I am afraid that hypnosis by itself, however, will not solve the basic problems and that these need to be explored to achieve the results you desire. The psychiatrist would no doubt like to know why you have to live without sex and explore this problem with you. Hypnosis, without going into these problems and your basic attitudes, merely is a superficial approach and could cause more harm than good. I want to emphasize that this is not a recommendation against hypnosis, but rather a recommendation to use it properly, if it is indicated at all. I would like to caution you against seeing someone who will do hypnosis who is not trained to handle the total problem in its proper professional setting.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have pernicious anemia. About four years ago after a series of B-12 injections my doctor put me on one injection of B-12 a month. The nurse stressed that the hip was the proper place for it. A year ago I moved and changed doctors and the nurse there gave me the injection in the arm. I asked the doctor if it shouldn't be in the hip instead of the arm and he said it didn't make any difference, so I don't know which one was right. I am always fatigued and started to take vitamins. I told my doctor and he just shrugs it off and goes on to something else. I am 40 years old and have to work to keep up.

Dear Reader—Other than comfort, it doesn't make any difference whether the injection is made in the arm or in the hip. The important purpose of most injected medicines is to either put it under the skin (subcutaneous) or into the muscle (IM). A medicine placed under the skin rather than in the muscle is absorbed slowly. This is sometimes useful. Usually the medicine can be put under the skin in almost any region of the body.

Muscles have good circulation and medicine injected into the muscle is rapidly picked up by the blood stream and carried throughout the body. If a large needle is used or a large amount injected, then a large muscle as found over the hip is used. For a small amount with a small needle, the arm muscle is more convenient. When done right the medicine will be picked up by the circulation in the arm muscle just about as fast as by the circulation in the hip muscle. So, this is why your doctor said it didn't make any difference.

If you take something by mouth, it has to be absorbed by the digestive tract and some medicines are destroyed by the digestive juices in the stomach and the various enzymes. Still another way to take medicine is to inhale it. Various sprays are used this way and the medicine is absorbed by the circulation through the lungs. This is usually very rapid. Finally, some medicines can be administered by rubbing them on the skin.

NO ROOM FOR LAUNDRY PAIR?

A laundry for homemakers who think they don't have room for a laundry is bound to be a welcome surprise at Christmas time.

One compact home laundry pair is small enough to store (or hide until Christmas) in a closet, and requires no special plumbing or electrical requirements. The portable, fully automatic appliances by Hot-point make possible the convenience of a home laundry even in the smallest bungalow, mobile home or apartment. When stacked in their handy rack, they take up less than four square feet of floor area.

Both the automatic washer and automatic dryer offer many of the features found in their full-sized counterparts, including permanent press settings.

The washer rolls on casters for fast hookup to a sink faucet, just like a portable dishwasher, and plugs into any adequate 115-volt grounded outlet. The dryer also operates on 115-volts, and requires no outside venting. Both appliances have a five pound capacity of mixed fabrics, and are available in colors as well as white.

Christmas '72 Strikes Some Classic Notes HOURS OF INVENTIVE PLAYTIME

When trend-setters abandon the avant-garde to deck their halls with holly, cynics speak about Santa, hard rock fans soothe their souls with strains of White Christmas and food fanciers forsake their worldly ways in favor of plum pudding and egg nog — you know that Christmas is just around the corner.

Traditionally a time for turning back the clock on 1972, Christmas 1972 promises to be one of the most classic holiday seasons ever.

As your mood mellows, here are some signs of this memorable occasion you can post to turn your holiday into one of the nicest ever:

- Trim a tree, wrap a gift or frame a fireplace in decorations that go back generations (or at least have the look). A search of a few family attics is certain to turn up an "antique" trim or two. If not, let strings of popcorn and cranberries, crisp cookies — that must be eaten by the twelfth day — Santas, angels and stars cut from colored paper and foil give a "Christmas Carol" look to your home.
- Plan a perennially perfect party wardrobe for yourself. Greet your guests or be one in palazzo pants, dolman-sleeved shirts, velvet skirts and glittery turtle-necks, halter-neck dresses and the always true-to-fashion short cocktail dress.

- Select gifts in the classic vein. Traditional things — a string of pearls, a square of silk scarf, a fluffy muff make meaningful presents. So do flacons of fragrance, particularly a time-honored one like Wind Song by Prince Matchabelli. This is a floral bouquet with woody overtones that comes in the classic crown flacon first created by the Prince himself back in the 1930s. For holiday giving (and hinting for), this year, the fragrance comes in a number of classic combination sets.

For the collector on your list, there's a distinguished Collection — crown flacons of Perfume and Cologne Parfumees plus a cut crystal column of Cologne Spray for tucking into a purse. In a distinctive aqua, green and gold gift case.

The search for the ideal stocking stuffer set will end when you spot the handsome gift package that contains the "unforgettable" fragrance of this famous

Cologne and Dusting Powder.

When classic also means perfect, the Parfait Set, pairing long-lasting Wind Song creme perfume and dusting powder is the gift-able answer.

- Plan to revive a classic Christmas custom like caroling and build your holiday dinner around traditional Dickensian fare.

There are many ways to enjoy a truly classic holiday season — from the fashions and fragrant gifts you choose to the way you decorate your home. So, why not capture, and share, the spirit.

The best toys are those that give free rein to a child's imagination and to his constant urge for creative self-expression through building. Nature's own elements of sand, water and clay provide marvelous construction materials, as do man-made Lego plastic building bricks.

This toddler is learning to build with a set of colorful jumbo bricks. Because they are large and clip together easily, he is able, without frustration, to construct while developing important eye-hand coordination.

His older brother enjoys endless hours of inventive play with the regular Lego system. Using his imagination and knowledge of the world around him, he may create a complex Chinese pagoda or a simple truck. Building toys offer remarkable freedom of expression with timeless fascination.

Each part of the system clips together with every other part, so the child can add to his or her collection knowing that everything will fit. You can start a child off with a beginner or basic set for Christmas, then add to the system on birthdays or other gift-giving occasions.

It's the Thought . . .

Every gift which is given, even though it be small, is in reality great, if it be given with affection.

—Pindar (518-438 B.C.)

Gifts of living plants add to the Christmas cheer of any household.

The traditional holiday favorite, of course, is the stately, luxurious poinsettia. Pairs of these lovely plants, with red and white flowers, make a happy holiday combination.

GIFT WITH A CLASSIC AIR: Wind Song — a floral fragrance with woody overtones — is an always hinted-for scent that fits in especially well with this year's accent on gifts in a classic vein. From Prince Matchabelli, the "unforgettable" scent in its distinctive crown flacon, is available in a variety of handsomely wrapped gift sets.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Six spades is a pretty good contract. It would be a cinch against a heart or diamond lead, but when we saw the hand played West opened a trump.

Byron Greenberg of Tulsa, who was declarer, planned his play before winning the first trick. He saw no reason not to draw trumps and so he played a second round of the trump suit.

Then he led a heart to dummy's queen and really went into a huddle when the queen held.

Some players huddle for no apparent reason but eventually Byron found a play that was sure to bring home the slam if West held the ace of hearts. Let's see if you readers can find this sure-thing play.

Byron simply cashed dummy's ace of clubs and led the four of hearts to his 10-spot. West took his jack and found himself caught in the toils of an early end-play.

It didn't matter what he led. Byron was sure to take the rest of the tricks.

The ace of hearts lead would set up Byron's king. Byron would ruff in dummy; get to discard one of dummy's diamonds on the good heart and trump his third diamond with dummy's last trump. A low heart would allow the diamond discard immediately.

A diamond lead would take care of the diamond loser and Byron could ruff both his hearts with dummy's trumps.

A low club lead would give dummy a club trick and allow Byron to discard one of his diamonds while the king of clubs lead would be suicide for the defense.

What do you do now?

A—Jump to four hearts. This shows very good hearts and leaves it up to your partner to move toward a slam. Remember, his hand may still be a very strong one.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to five hearts. What do you do now?

Give Holiday
Spirits—and Legs—a Lift!

Has holiday hopping and shopping got you on the run? After decking the halls, are you the one feeling "decked?"

Then slow down for a moment, and take a load off your mind — and feet — with these shoppers' special legs-exercises. They can give your legs a lift while you're giving your spirits one.

—Whenever you're standing for long periods of time, keep weight evenly distributed and balanced between balls of your feet and heels.

—Avoid slouching or throwing entire weight onto one hip. (You may think you're resting one leg, but you're only tiring the other.)

—When you do get a minute to sit down, stretch legs long, point and flex the feet to relieve muscle tension.

—While you're seated, you can also rotate legs in a clockwise, then counter-clockwise direction. (You can also do this while standing if the elevator isn't too crowded.)

—Pay attention to the kind of shoes and stockings you don before setting off, as these can make a big difference in the way your feet feel. Comfortable walking shoes with cushioned soles can add an extra bounce to your step. And so can pantyhose made with "Lycra" spandex that offer better fit, comfort, and sheerness than ever before. Pantyhose of this lightweight spandex are designed for the woman who doesn't need traditional support hose and who's not willing to give up sheerly beautiful legs for merely comfortable ones. She can put on a pair in the morning and know that they'll stay with her — in all the right places — throughout the day. Pantyhose of "Lycra" are available from leading manufacturers.

—Once you're home, lie down flat with your feet raised six inches above your head. Also, you'll find that soaking feet for a few minutes in warm water and then splashing them with cologne or bath powder will make them feel extra pampered.

New Puzzles for 2-6 Year Group Plus New Members of Popular Play Family Series

A major toy manufacturer this Christmas is offering a tempting package of 12 unusual puzzles which it has had made under a special arrangement with a Dutch manufacturer.

The new puzzles, called "Pick-up & Peek" puzzles, are geared for the two to six-year-old age group. 12 different subjects are offered, including Children Around The World, Nursery Rhymes, Farm Animals, Occupations and other, similar subjects.

Each puzzle is solid wood finished in bright, non-toxic colors. The puzzle pieces have non-removable "easy lift" plastic knobs so they can be removed to reveal a picture discovery under each. These pictures relate to and amplify the subject of the puzzle.

A number of the puzzles, introduced by Fisher-Price, have pieces designed to stand; thus they become toys in their own right.

Play Family Airport and Play Family Houseboat are new additions to the outstandingly successful Play Family series which was initiated several years ago.

The Airport has two hinged sections which permit a child to create many different layouts. The item, which will retail in the $17-$18 price range, includes the popular Play Family Fun Jet (which is already in the line as a separate item), a helicopter, six play family figures (including a stewardess and helicopter pilot) four pieces of luggage, a line tractor, two baggage trucks, a fuel truck, and two 2-passenger cars with "trunks" for luggage.

The top level of the terminal has a parking port for the helicopter. A crank, which turns the baggage conveyor and also spins the helicopter's rotor, activates a realistic "whomp, whomp" copter sound. The lower level of the Airport has a check-in counter and access ramps. The fuel truck hose fits all vehicles including the jet which has a realistic whirring sound and a pilot whose head turns left and right.

Play Family Airport is solidly constructed from hardboard, wood and plastic. It is intended for ages two to eight.

Play Family Houseboat is a land and water toy. On land it can be used as a pull-toy which makes a realistic "putt-putt" sound. In the water the boat and all accessory parts are floatable.

Included in the intricately designed item are five play family passengers, dining table and two matching chairs, barbecue grill, two deck lounges (with three "resting" positions), a sturdy little speedboat and two play family life preservers. All accessories are removable.

When pulled the "skipper" looks port and starboard as the helm wheel turns left and right. The sun deck, which tilts up to allow easy access to the main deck, also becomes a convenient carrying handle.

The Houseboat is beautifully designed and colored in every detail. It is intended for children two to eight-years old and provides for versatile play situations which can help children develop manipulative skills as well as powers of imagination.

PLAY FAMILY AIRPORT is a new addition to a popular series. Airport has two hinged sections which permit the child to create different layouts, encourages initiative and design aptitudes. Airport "family" of 6 includes stewardess and helicopter pilot. You also get Fun Jet, a helicopter, 4 pieces of luggage, a line tractor, 2 baggage trucks, a fuel truck, and two 2-passenger cars with "trunks." From Fisher-Price.

baby's 1st Christmas! DIAMONDS ARE A GIFT OF LOVE FOR YOUR SANTA

Take the advice of child care experts and make the day rich with learning experiences, free of rush and frantic activity.

The Christmas tree is a fascinating wonder for a tiny baby. He'll gaze delightedly at the bright shapes, colors and lights. Put him near the tree in an infant seat or on a soft blanket spread on the floor.

If the child is older and is beginning to reach and pull, make sure the tree is anchored securely. Show him how to touch the prickly evergreen needles without pulling the branch. If you let him touch some of the ornaments carefully, he'll be less inclined to grab them on the tree.

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house not a creature was stirring — except Santa (read "head of household"), who was busily placing gifts around the tree for Mrs. Santa and all the little Clauses.

But what about a gift for Santa? What to give the man who has shared the past year's ups and downs, joys and despairs with you? He deserves a special gift of love, one that will speak volumes about your special feelings for him.

How about diamonds? Think about it. They are the hardest substance known to man, and the most enduring. That is why they are the symbol of love. And jewelry with small diamonds is most likely within your Christmas budget.

Small diamonds, in masculine settings, are being worn by men in all walks of life. Entertainers like Sammy Davis, Jr., many sports figures, and business and professional men increasingly are buying diamond jewelry. Doctors, particularly, seem to be intrigued with "treated" colored diamonds, those gems which have been bombarded with atoms to turn them into all the colors of the spectrum. And many men are taken with the new jewelry featuring rough, industrial diamonds, set in gold and sparked with small, polished diamonds.

More and more designers, recognizing the growing popularity of men's jewelry, are using small diamonds creatively in rings, cufflinks and even stick-pins, which are ideal for the new wider ties. And small diamonds, because they are found in greater numbers than larger ones, are surprisingly reasonable in price.

So this Christmas, consider giving the "King of Gems" to the king in your life. He'll be proud to wear your gift of diamonds throughout the year.

Everybody Loves This Pup

Who doesn't love a puppy? Nobody! And everybody loves Luv Pup, the fabulous stuffed puppy who's almost real.

The new toy is huggable, lovable, colorful and all set for a ride in Santa's sleigh — to your house! He comes in five sizes to match the size and age of your child. From just short of one foot tall (11 1/4 inches to be exact) to a child-size 42-inch Luv Pup, Santa can select honey gold, bright blue or cheerful cherry red.

The smart Santa, on the lookout for toys that're safe, can be assured of the new pup's safety features. He's made of materials which have been thoroughly tested in the company's laboratory. The life-like stuffed animal, with a funny face, is fire-retardant, non-toxic and non-allergenic. He has safety-locked eyes and no wires.

This stuffed toy, with its floppy ears, big round eyes and quizzical look is available at most Sears stores and through the company's Christmas catalog.

Intriguing, Flavored Coffees Give A Tree-Trimming Party An Exotic Attraction. Try These Recipes

One of the nicest things about Christmas is trimming the festive tree. Traditionally, it's a family affair, but today, many people invite in a few friends for a tree-trimming party.

This year, why not make yours a coffee-tasting party? Once the last strip of tinsel is on the festive tree, offer guests elegant coffees with subtle flavor accents of cinnamon, orange and spice, anisette, mint, apricot or chocolate.

The six flavored coffees — Cafe Cinnamon, Cafe Orange and Spice, Cafe Anisette, Cafe de Menthe, Cafe Apricot and Cafe au Chocolat — offer new dimensions in coffee drinking. These new instant coffees are the innovation of the R. C. Biglow Company, noted for its line of distinctive specialty teas.

Have guests sample each of the coffees in tiny demitasse cups to see which they prefer. The coffees are ideal for self service, so each person can fix his drink to his own taste. All you need to provide are piping hot water, cups, spoons, sugar and whipped cream, ice cream, grated lemon peel and nutmeg for garnish.

Add some spirit to your party by combining Cafe Orange and Spice and creme de cacao for an excellent Cafe Alexander.

Cafe Cinnamon gives new flavor dimension to elegant Viennese Coffee, while the youngsters in the party are sure to enjoy Cafe Fizz, a coffee-flavored ice cream soda. Created by Eunice Bigelow, wife of the tea company's president, this is a tall drink made with Cafe Anisette, club soda and a dollop of ice cream.

Besides being interesting variations on the coffee theme, these flavored coffees make nice and unusual gifts for a hostess or favorite neighbor.

Cafe Alexander (Makes 4 servings)

2-2/3 cups water
3 tablespoons Cafe Orange and Spice
1/2 cup white creme de cacao

Sweetened whipped cream
Bring water to boil in saucepan; stir in Cafe Orange and Spice and creme de cacao and heat. Pour into 4 large wine glasses. Float whipped cream on top.

Cold Cafe Alexander: Dissolve the Cafe in boiling water; cool and then add creme de cacao. Chill before serving; garnish with whipped cream.

Frozen Cafe Alexander: Freeze Cafe mixture, then blend in electric blender. Spoon into glasses. Top with whipped cream. Serve with straws.

Viennese Coffee (Makes 1 serving)

4 teaspoons Cafe Cinnamon
1 cup boiling water
Whipped cream
Grated orange peel

Dissolve Cafe Cinnamon in water in cup; top with a dollop of whipped cream and sprinkle with orange peel.

Maybe this is the year to stop buying a lot of THINGS for your family and friends at Christmas time. Instead of presenting them with superfluous luxury objects, why not take a more meaningful approach to Christmas gifts?

CREATE CLEVER GIFTS WITH BABY FOODS JARS! HERE, IDEAS FOR EVERYONE ON YOUR LIST

For special gifts this Christmas, why not create imaginative surprises from baby food jars? In this way you accomplish two things. People love to receive a personalized present; and you're helping our environment by reusing these handy containers.

The little jars can be transformed into any number of practical and useful objects. Check the following suggestions as a beginning. Then let your imagination go and you'll come up with your own ideas.

If there isn't a baby at your house, arrange to get the jars from a family with one.

For Mothers, Brides, Aunts and Grandmothers: Make a spice set; a trio to hold buttons and sewing paraphernalia; matched jars to hold artist's supplies, or a refrigerator set for garlic, lemon wedges, parsley sprigs or herb butter. Decorate the lids and label the contents.

For the Family: There always seem to be collections of little things needing storage space. And almost anyone would welcome holders for stationery items (paper clips, rubber bands, staples, and postage stamps); and a little girl's pony-tail holders and barrettes. Store a boy's marbles, model-making equipment and "junk"; baby's needs — cotton puffs, safety pins, and piggy bank; and use them for the workshop (plastic lids that hook into pegboard are available in craft shops especially for baby food jars).

All of these ingenious suggestions come from Gerber.

Honey Orange Sauce
(Makes 1 1/2 cups)
1 cup honey
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice, undiluted
Gradually stir orange

wood; enamel the lids, add a decorative hanger or hook, and twist the jars into the lids. That's all it takes to make a gift that is certain to be appreciated throughout the year.

Gifts from the kitchen: Fill baby food jars with your own refrigerator or freezer jams, marmalades, relishes, dessert toppings or sauces. Screw on lids. If jars are to be frozen, allow at least one-half inch headspace at top; liquid mixtures like jams expand as they freeze and if there is no room, the glass will break. Seal the lids with freezer tape and keep frozen constantly until used.

Home canning in baby food jars is definitely not recommended. When baby food is commercially processed, the lids are vacuum sealed by special machines. Jar lids do not have an airtight seal when replaced by hand, and contents may be subject to spoilage. You can seal jams and jellies with paraffin in the jars.

Dress up the jars with colorful toppers cut from felt. Make a cone shape, then glue or sew on cut-outs or sequins for Santa Claus or Christmas trees. Add a loop of gold braid and each felt decoration becomes an ornament for the Christmas tree.

Two popular ways to fill baby food jars are these honey-based sauces. Not only do they make super sundaes, but they're also nice on French toast, waffles or gingerbread. They taste good too, emphasize Gerber nutritionists.

THESE GIFTS BEGIN WITH baby food jars. Fill the containers with your favorite freezer or refrigerator jams, jellies or sauces; then top each with a felt Santa Claus or Christmas tree that becomes an ornament. Or, suggest Gerber experts, anchor the baby food jar lids to a block of wood with screws and you have a smart storage piece.

juice into honey, mixing until blended completely. Serve over ice cream, French toast, waffles or gingerbread. Store in refrigerator.

Honey Peanut Butter Sauce

(Makes about 1 cup)

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/3 cup water
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 cup peanut butter
Mix sugar, honey, water and salt in saucepan. Simmer 10 minutes over low heat until sugar is completely dissolved. Cool slightly and gradually add to peanut butter, stirring until well blended. Serve over ice cream, French toast, waffles or pancakes. Store in refrigerator.

GIVE SOMETHING OF YOURSELF this Christmas — a lovely portrait photograph is appreciated by relatives and friends. Large prints are suitable for hanging, smaller photos can be used for Kodak holiday greeting cards available now at your local portrait studio.

Indoor Spills and Thrills for Christmas fun

Have you ever wanted to get with the real sports car racing, world and experience the hair-pin, wheel-to-wheel excitement of a treacherous Grand Prix course? A new fast-paced 3M Game, Speed Circuit, offers just this challenge to dare-devil players such as the hard driving couple engrossed in lightning-speed tactics.

Speed Circuit lets racing fans of all ages, 2 to 6 players, drive a Grand Prix racer over three world-famous courses — Monaco, Monza and Watkins Glen. Only drivers with superior skill and nerves of steel will survive the pressures of the "real thing" — spinouts, collisions and crashes. All the electrifying fun of this dynamic competitive sport comes alive as players vie on the road racing board which colorfully reproduces the exacting specifications of each internationally-known Grand Prix course. Speed Circuit is a sure-fire winner as a Yuletide gift for the swift-in-heart who like accelerated action.

CARE OF GIFT PLANTS AND GREENS

Good Greens
Most florists stock a variety of greens, too. Fairly plentiful and reasonable at this season are sprays of various kinds of holly, rhododendron, laurel, mahonia, bayberry, leucothoe, Magnolia grandiflora, heather and huckleberry (which is actually a variety of gaylussacia shipped from Oregon). Greens such as these are indispensable in flower arrangements. With many of them, a spray or two constitutes an arrangement in itself.

Gladiolus are one of the best all-around cut flowers. They may be depended on to last almost as long as some types of chrysanthemums. With daily trimming of stems, gladiolus will remain in good shape for a week or 10 days. Even the last florets at the tips of the spikes can be decoratively arranged in shallow containers with sprigs of soft greenery.

Sweet peas, violets, freesias and lily of the valley are not long lasting but they have much charm and their exquisite fragrance endears them to everyone.

For an appealing centerpiece in midwinter, sweet peas are most pleasing, especially if they can be obtained fresh-cut at a nearby greenhouse. Gerberas should also be considered. They resemble huge daisies of different colors, are easy to arrange and are always gay looking. A few gardenia or camellia blooms floating in a shallow bowl are always a delight.

Give Them Air
Cut flowers keep best in a well-ventilated room, with the temperature around 68. They should not be expected to last long when the room temperature is in the 80's. Increasing the humidity by occasionally spraying the air with a misting device will be helpful, too.

Cut flowers and greens should be removed from the florist's box immediately on arrival. Cut an inch off the stems and plunge them into water without delay.

Convertible Dishwasher Goes to the Scene of the Grime

A gift she'll open and enjoy 365 days a year is a portable dishwasher that can later be converted to an undercounter built-in.

Load it at the table, and roll it to the sink for operation: in between meals, the grooved maple cutting board top provides a handy, mobile work surface. Hot-point makes this dishwasher.

No hand pre-rinsing of dishes is ever required since a built-in soft food disposer whisks away residue; and wash water is continually filtered to help prevent redeposition of soil. You can wash anytime, because its Sani-Cycle feature assures water will be at the proper temperature for best results during the main wash and final rinse. In addition to normal and short wash cycles, there's also a pots-pans cycle.
